1 - About these guidelines

This document is here to help, not to police.

Referring to these guidelines will lead to a quality and consistent – yet flexible – brand.

With these ingredients you should have enough to express yourself, your team and Nugent.

With your help, over time, the Nugent brand will evolve. This is its foundation.

2 - The standard logo

The standard logo can be used at a variety of sizes.

When space is limited, the single 'n' can carry the brand succinctly.

2.1 - Suggested uses

The following are safe background colours for the logo to sit over.

If a textured or photographic background is desired, try darkening it to allow for sufficient contrast between the background and the logo.

2.2 - Logo text colours

1. When using a contrastive background colour (such as white, dark grey, or black) you are safe to use the default logo that uses soft grey text.
2. With textured or coloured (less contrasting) backgrounds, make use of the logo that uses white text.

2.3 - Logo text colours

1. When using a contrastive background colour (such as white, dark grey, or black) you are safe to use the default logo that uses soft grey text.
2. With textured or coloured (less contrasting) backgrounds, make use of the logo that uses white text.

2.4 - Greyscale

When full-colour use of the logo isn't an option, the greyscale version can be used.

This version of the logo will work over light or dark backgrounds.

2.5 - Single colour

When a situation demands it, due to a particular printing technique or application, a simplified single-colour version of the logo can be used.

The logo consists of a lowercase 'n' followed by the word 'nugent' in a lowercase, sans-serif font. Both are rendered in black on a white background.

3 - Logo alternatives

When there is space for more expression...

4 - Logo sizing

Check available space and context to determine how you use the Nugent logo:

1. When space is limited, consider the use of the 'n' symbol in isolation.
2. The majority of the time you will want to use the standard logo. If in any doubt use the standard logo.
3. If more of space is on offer, consider the two logo alternatives.

5 - Logo spacing

For the logo to stand out and provide comfort and authority it needs to be given sufficient space.

Use the size of the 'n' symbol as guidance for the minimum amount of space required to surround the furthest edges of the logo.

6 - Incorrect logo use

To ensure legibility and quality, please do not stretch the logo. Maintain original proportions when adjusting adjusting size.

Do not add shadows or any other effects to the logo.

7 - Colour

The Nugent brand is made up of a family of colours.

The Nugent 'n' symbol itself demonstrates a variety of these colours.

Some colours can be used to specifically represent a type of service, a section of the website or simply for decoration.

7.1 - Main colours

These colours will be most identifiable with your brand and sub-brands.

8 - Typography

The Nugent brand is made up of two typefaces. Used for different purposes, but working well together, both exude the "Nugent" values.

8.1 - Brand font

Used for the brand logo and for large, feature headings.

1. Hiruko Pro - Light
2. Hiruko Pro - Extra Light

Note

Always use lower-case letters with these fonts. Do not use upper-case letters.

License

Mashbo have purchased licenses for web and print use of these two fonts. For web purposes this covers use on the Nugent website. For print purposes you are permitted to install and use these files on two Nugent computers only.

Further licenses can be purchased from <https://www.hypefortype.com/hiruko-pro.html>.

① nugent brand

② feature heading

8.2 - Headlines and paragraphs

Used for normal headings and body/paragraph text.

1. Open Sans - Bold
2. Open Sans - Regular

Note

Use upper-case and lower-case letters with these fonts.

License

The typeface is open-source. This means you are free to use it commercially for web and print use.

9 - Text/background contrast

For small text or typical body/paragraph text it's important to carefully pair text and background colours. Too little contrast between the two means legibility can suffer.

Oversized text and very large titles are easier to see and read by their nature, so can handle less contrast if absolutely necessary.

10 - Sub-brands

Service categories based on our brand foundation of colour and typography...

education

residential

community

family

support

10.1 - Sub-brand tiles

A succinct way to refer to a service sub-brand in isolation.

Note

The various shapes of sub-brand logos generally make use of 100% and 50% opacity settings. There is also a single use of 75% (the circle used for the Education symbol).

11 - The 'n' device

11.1 - The 'n' device

Large scale versions of the 'n' symbol can hint at the brand or create dramatic and attractive decorative shapes.

12 - Iconography

Helpful icons to suggest direction, function or positivity in online and offline situations. Particularly useful online, implying action when reading and clicking.

13 - Values

We can now put our brand toolkit to use,
using the new IACCORD value statements...

innovation

We are strong. The way we work is open, honest and transparent. This helps us to create a fairer and more equal society for everyone.

A young boy in a blue plaid shirt and brown shorts is captured mid-air, jumping into a pool. Another boy in blue shorts is visible in the background, also near the pool. The scene is set outdoors with a wooden fence and greenery in the background. The word "ambition" is overlaid in white text on the right side of the image.

ambition

We are ambitious for the people we work with and for, because they are amazing. We can do more by working with other people and organisations that share our ambition.

courage

We are brave. We encourage the people we work with and for to be brave. We are the voice of the voiceless.

compassion

We care. We have always cared. Our caring is limitless and helps us reach as many people as possible.

A photograph of a group of people in a social setting, possibly a party or conference. In the foreground, a woman with long brown hair and bangs is smiling and clapping her hands. She is wearing a dark blazer. In the background, a woman with glasses and a ponytail is laughing, and another woman with long blonde hair is seen from behind. The overall atmosphere is positive and celebratory.

optimism

We believe in hope. We have faith that by working together, we can create better lives for the people who need us.

respect

We respect people because of their humanity. By respecting people and their individual needs, we build better services that create positive change.

dignity

We embrace equality and diversity. We treat people with dignity – helping them to grow and thrive. Dignity is our change agent.
